

Daily Reminder

- Lord, You are Sovereign. You know everything. You have infinite wisdom. Your power is limitless. Your timing is always perfect. You are present everywhere and You love me.
- Father, You are worthy of all honor, praise, and worship.
- You designed me for Yourself, to do good works planned before I was born.
- You have always loved me. You chose me before the world began.
- I have been crucified, quickened, raised, and seated with Christ.
- I am dead to sin and I am alive in You!
- I am indwelt by Your Holy Spirit and am complete in Christ.
- I accept the reality of the Holy Spirit's control of my life—right now. Father, You have already provided for everything I will ever need.
- You are enabling me right now to live a holy life that pleases You. I want to turn away from my pride, sin, and selfishness (my focus on myself).
- Instead, I willingly surrender myself completely and cheerfully to You.
- Help me to be more aware of You, to take all my thoughts captive to you and to be obedient to all that I know—to do only Your will.
- Lord, show me where I am disobedient, where I am not pleasing to You.
- Lord, I trust You. I love You. I worship and praise You.
- Now Lord, I thank You in advance for what You have for me today.

-- From Any Ole Bush by Bert Harned M.D.